Human Rights Instruments

International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (1966)

G.A. Res. 2200A (XXI), International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, U.N. Doc. A/6316 (1966), 993 U.N.T.S. 3 (Dec. 16, 1966)

Article 19

> 2. Everyone shall have the right to freedom of expression; this right shall include freedom to seek, receive and impart information and ideas of all kinds, regardless of frontiers, either orally, in writing or in print, in the form of art, or through any other media of his choice.

United Nations Guiding Principles (2011)

H.R.C. Res. 17/4, Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights: Implementing the United Nations "Protect, Respect and Remedy" Framework, U.N. Doc. A/HRC/RES/17/4 (June 16, 2011)

Principle 21

> In order to account for how they address their human rights impacts, business enterprises should be prepared to communicate this externally, particularly when concerns are raised by or on behalf of affected stakeholders. Business enterprises whose operations or operating contexts pose risks of severe human rights impacts should report formally on how they address them. In all instances, communications should:
>
> (a) Be of a form and frequency that reflect an enterprise's human rights impacts and that are accessible to its intended audiences;
> (b) Provide information that is sufficient to evaluate the adequacy of an enterprise's response to the particular human rights impact involved;
> (c) In turn not pose risks to affected stakeholders, personnel or to legitimate requirements of commercial confidentiality
